DESIGN PROCESS

The Design Brief

The first part of the design process involves a discussion with the client about the company's goals and visual aesthetic, gathering as much information as possible.

Conceptualization

Now it is time to develop concepts, themes and text while sketching ideas and examining all possible angles and directions.

Delivery

Once the client is satisfied with the final result, we produce a variety of file types that can be used for different outputs and send to the client.

The Design Brief

Once a good amount of general information has been gathered, we dive deeper into the research stage and step in the shoes of the client.

Draft Production

At this point, the most successful ideas have made it through development and with digital implementation, they come to life.

Brainstorming

we start dropping ideas and once they begin flowing onto the page in text form, visual symbols and shapes begin to take form too. We avoid the cliché and make the project as own-able as possible.

Client Feedback

The most effective choices are presented to the client for consideration. Tweaks will be made to represent the clients wishes and then the improved project is presented to the client again.

IMANIPULATE ©2023 CONCEPT

Developing a meaningful concept is a crucial step in any design project. It's a skill that few agencies really take time to understand and appreciate. Creating concepts is just like a strategic brainstorming session, where several items are considered as they are put together. Similar to any brainstorming exercise, we don't dismiss any ideas. It's important to talk and connect with the client at this critical stage. We try to find inspiration and think outside of the box because we believe that good concepts speak for themselves. Concept-less designs don't have that kind of life.

IMANIPULATE STUDIO

CREATION

Our objective is to create unique customized identities in all three aspects; branding, design and social media, to attain a personal image for each project.
We focus on the brand itself and how it should be positioned in customers' minds in order to achieve the right image and identity which will lead to successful marketing and high brand awareness. Simply, we take attention to how the general public will view and perceive the company.
In reality, it's more than a logo or stationary items, it's how the audience connects with the company on multiple levels and through different brand points. It is the voice and personality of the company, its services and/or products.
We don't just produce a variety of pretty designs and call it a branding or design project, we take concepts and ideas from the companies strategy and bring them to realization in the most appropriate format, suggesting improvements or refining the original strategy along the way.
We are a professional agency that creates visuals that make up the corporate identity of a company or event, showing what it stands for and highlighting their beliefs.

WE MADE CAMPAIGNS

Being strategic does not mean strategy is our solo expertise. On the contrary, passion to make a change is what drives our creative team, who has tens of years in the creative industry. This includes creative direction, conceptualizing, bilingual copywriting, designing and more. We generate strategic creativity. When we think creatively, we do it for a clear purpose to serve the strategy.

PATTERN STYLE

Patterns play a vital role in brand recognition, bringing a breath of fresh air to simple designs and helping create strong, memorable brand expressions. Patterns, Shapes and Textures can become even more recognizable than the actual logo. We love to experiment a lot with patterns because it forces us to look at a brand from a different perspective and often leads to new ideas which gives an extra boost of distinction.

COLOR PALETTES

Beyond the logo, color is the most recognizable aspect of creating a brand identity for a client and the most impactful choice. Choosing the right color palette can highlight business' strengths and help the client attract the right customers. The color palette has two layers: primary and secondary palettes, each with its own subgroupings of colors and meaning while maintaining a sense of hierarchy, balance and harmony.

COLOR VARIATIONS

Versatility is key when considering variations on the logo. Single Color Logo™s can be simpler and more instantly readable than more color variations which have an opportunity to define different business divisions or bring variety to the system. Color Variations is a difference without changing the overall brand and the key to an effective logo is brand reco

CARLA IN SWEETS WONDERLAND

Chapter One - The story begins in medieval France about a young girl named Carla who loves sweets called her a white kitten (whom she calls "vanilla") and a black kitten (whom she calls "chocolate"). Looking for a house, when Carla, along with cats she started thinking about the best sweet taste of the world, she looked on the other side of a mirror's reflection found something strange. Climbing up into the fireplace mantle, she peeks at the wall, but soon behind the fireplace and discovers, to her surprise, that she is able to step through it to an alternative world. In this reflected version of her own house, to sweets wonderland that she always dreamed of that contains, cookies giant, cupcake whale, donuts land.

PACKAGING

Customers are drawn to products that look good. While an interesting and eye-catching logo does assist in marketing a product, nothing comes as close as the effect of a visually appealing and striking packaging design has on prospective customers. There is more to package designing than simply good looks. There is a whole science behind it - from the shape of the package to the materials used and functionality - and we have the knowledge it needs to deliver excellence.
